About Time Travel According To Aya	17

February 19, 2017 Conversation With Aya

Please note these original recordings were done in 2017. Obviously, things have changed since this time but the messages that Aya gave to humanity were not.

Victoria: Good morning, everybody. I wanted to welcome you to When The Ancients Speak this morning. Today I am going to be speaking with somebody I have been writing a lot of information about lately. And his name is Aya.

I have a couple of questions that I am going to ask him because I know that there is a great interest in The Anunnaki and there are also a lot of lies that have been told about them.

So, I am going to talk to Aya this morning and we are going to get some answers. The first question I would like to ask Aya is how old he is, how tall he is and just general questions so you get an idea about who The Anunnaki are. “

Aya: Hello Victoria. The first thing that I would like to say is that, obviously, there are going to be people that will not only disbelieve some of the things that I need to talk about but, perhaps, maybe even be opposed to some of the things that I say.

The single most important thing that I would like to discuss, along with answering your questions, is actually quite simple. What is alien life on this planet like?

There are many people that have a misconstrued understanding of exactly what and why and how alien beings have come to this planet. Most people believe that humans were placed here by The Grand Creator. And while there is a degree of truth to that, what they do not understand and what they try to continue to foist upon all the people of the planet, is that such influences do not exist.

Now there is a current undertone that is taking place in this world where people are beginning to finally see the truth from many, many years of lies from your government. And while there are good people in government as well that want the truth to come out, many of them fear most of the discoveries that have been made that have started long before the foundations of this government.

The Children of Ainur and Eru The One Called Ilúvatar

This is the part of Terran history that was buried and presented to us as Elvish Fantasy.

Aya: The truth is: Humanity was seeded here on this planet for a singular purpose. To become intelligent, free-thinking beings that would cooperate with the Children of Ainur. I know that name may seem a bit strange, most people believe in Anu and the other related tales instead.

Source: <https://lotr.fandom.com/wiki/Ainur>

The Ainur, also known as the Holy Ones, were beings encompassing both the Valar and the Maiar. They were the first and mightiest beings created by Eru Ilúvatar long before the beginning of the World. Source: https://lotr.fandom.com/wiki/Eru Il%C3%BAvatar

"There was Eru, the One, who in Arda is called Ilúvatar; and he made first the Ainur, the Holy Ones, that were the offspring of his thought..." —First words of the Ainulindalë

They were primordial spirits who existed with Ilúvatar, and with him created the world through the Ainulindalë, the Music of the Ainur. <https://youtu.be/zoVzNMDQ3mE>

After the creation of Arda, many of the Ainur descended into it to guide and order its growth; of these there were fifteen more powerful than the rest. Fourteen of these great Ainur became known as the Valar, or "Powers of Arda".

The fifteenth, Melkor, turned aside from that path and became the first Dark Lord. The many lesser Ainur that accompanied the Valar into Arda are known as Maiar, some who chose to follow Melkor and became Balrogs.

Aya: I will get into that in later interviews but the main thing I wanted to tell people was this: Most of the alien races that already exist among you on this planet are already here and have been here for millions of years. I think people are beginning to understand that there is a huge, huge universe just filled with life.

The typical description of what the universe is like is, devoid of any characterization. It is seen as this empty place that is vast and expensive and, while that part of it is true, imagine your own world, your own oceans filled with teeming life. Well, the analogy always plays true. This is precisely and exactly what life is like in the universe.

I find it tedious that I must explain this to intelligent beings that understand that the pure mathematical probability of life existing is absolute. And anyone that has any basic knowledge of mathematics would understand this. But please, the one thing that I want you to take away from this is not to focus so much on me and what I have to do but rather how I wish people to first understand and perceive the whole concept of aliens. They walk among you. There are aliens that are working on behalf of your government.

There are huge amounts of genetically manipulated people that are also upon this planet. And the other thing you need to know is that there have been breeding programs for literally hundreds of years.

I know you may not understand that completely, how could we have breeding programs back in the 1700s, the 1800s of your time frames. We will get into that too later. But I am here for a singular purpose. To alert humanity to understand that the alien invasion is here and has been here and now your government is going to try to wrap all of this together to make you believe that the majority of aliens, which by the way are peaceful beings, do not wish to see the earth destroyed.

Even though we will talk about cosmic events that are happening right now that most people are finally beginning to understand. The Reptilians and the other races, such as The Greys and The Talls and many of the other beings that are already here, are struggling for power the same way that your government is struggling for power.

Now I wanted you to have this framework to understand that there are groups that are trying to completely take over this planet and I think that is pretty obvious and you perceive them to be this group of elites, these investment bankers and other people. Well, who the hell do you think is controlling them?

Do you believe that a few select families can exercise their will on the entire planet without having people uprise and eventually want to change things? Well, you have been under some pretty powerful influences that have been preventing that from happening. Some of that has been broken. We will talk more about that but I am one of the representatives of that understanding.

There are different types of beings all across your planet and these beings are not all human. That much I want you to first understand. “

Victoria: Thank you so much. I guess we are at this point in history where we need to put past the curiosity and start looking towards the future. So where do you see humanity in the future, Aya? “

Aya: That depends on many things. Right now, humans already have been taken from this planet and your genetics are being scattered like seeds across the universe. There are many of you that already exist on a variety of different planets and I imagine some people might find that shocking but when you see the number of people that are abducted each year, some of which never return, you should want to know why.

Well, your DNA is a commodity. It is used and traded and sold and manipulated for various reasons throughout the entire universe. There are literally tens of thousands of different races and species and you are one of the very smallest. And this is the most humorous part that many of us think about. Originally, when you were seeded here, our main purpose for bringing you together with the current existing species that were already under slow development, was to make you your own form of super race. Now I use that term lightly, especially in the current political climate. I do not mean a bunch of fanatical, boot-stomping individuals in the perceptions of the lies that have been told to you to enslave you.

No, when I say super race, I am referring to the human race, entirely the human race and the events that will unfold because of it. And what I want you to understand is that your race is at a point where it is about to be accepted among the other citizens of the entire universe and we have our own form of government. You are not the center of the universe, oh no. You are here because you were chosen to be a slave race, an actual slave race to work on behalf of some of the Children of Ainur, you refer to them as The Anunnaki.

Yes, we have been on this planet for millions of years, we have worked with humanity and used them to help us harvest primarily gold but also other resources. You helped us to develop your genetics. We are using that technical understanding to further other races and of course we want humanity to exist in many different ways, sort of the way that you regulate your own species on this planet. Where people will interact with you and want to see things that will be improved and there are great and wondrous advanced technologies that are about to be revealed to you. The time has come for humanity to step into their new role which is: Welcome to the universe. This world is a training ground to teach you how to interact and behave in the universe. It is like a kindergarten. I don't know if Victoria has used that example when she has discussed some of the conversations that we have had, but you are children. You are the children of Ainur, you are the children of all of the Anunnaki.

Yet some of us of course, like any species, have both good and bad. Our primary goal is to allow you to step boldly into your new future. There are many great things that are about to take place on this planet and of course some rather bad things as well.

Victoria: Can you tell us, Aya, about some of the things that The Galactic Empire would like to give to our earth?

Aya: Well, I know the term Galactic Empire sounds like you should be wearing one of those silly tin foil hats, right? And I'm sure that if you try to discuss this with most people they will recoil in shock. Well, I am telling you that the things that your government has already can extent your life by literally dozens of years and once you get the true-life extension technology many of you will be able to live for thousands of years. Please understand you follow the same model as most of the children of Ainur.

You have the ability for your bodies to continue on to repair themselves, but of course some of that was restricted in your DNA when we made you, simply because we were afraid of you at some point.

You have the potential to even exceed some of the things that the other races are capable of doing. You have the ability to see into dimensions and be able to comprehend things like time travel and the ability to spread into the universe. There are some of us that perceive that you possibly could be a viral, a terrible effect on an existing group of beings that already want to make sure that you play by the rules. And as we can see, with the disruptive influence of The Reptilians, that have been among you for millions of years and have the ability to conceal themselves, along with other races that are here, they wish to control you.

They wish to make sure that you will not act out and use your knowledge and gifts. You see, your own government does not trust you with the advanced technology we have given you. Oh, also because of the current intrusion that you have made to places like the moon which, by the way, by treaty with your government, belongs to different races that are mining it.

The moon is another story that I think Victoria and I will get into another time; it is not what you think it is. But with that understood, Victoria, the other thing I want people to understand is that, ultimately, what happens over the next six months to a year is completely up to humanity.

Now you have some pretty big solar situations that will be taking place as well as some potential... weather? We like to call it weather from outer space. I believe your former president signed an executive order about protecting people from inbound weather from your solar system and there is other discussion we need to have about that, Victoria. But the main push of this is quite simple. There are many things that humanity must prepare properly.

Your government is about to release some very interesting technology that will take you into the forefront. There will be a space race like never before. A desire to build weapons to protect against the evil aliens, oh it's all coming out, people. Very, very soon it will all blow over and you will have this huge, huge important discussion worldwide – what do we do with the alien situation? “

Victoria: Thank you, Aya. I guess now many humans are waking up to the fact that for most of our history The Reptilians have been in charge and they have lied about how old we are and all of the history that was laid before us we now know is a lie, we know religion is a lie. So, a lot of people want to know: Why did The Anunnaki leave earth and let The Reptilians kind of take over our lives?

Aya: There are actually seeded people, hybrids, that were left on your planet. These were the guardians, these were the ones that we were attuned to. These were the ones that we could commune with, people like you, Victoria. Other people that have this unique genetic profile or, in some cases, simply fit the correct understanding, the ability to develop these powerful psionics and the ability to commune over space and time.

Well, most parents, at some point, decide that the time has come for the children to seek their own fortune. Once we had acquired what we needed from this planet, including a rather large supply of not only gold, but we also took and left a variety of things on this planet to be discovered. The technology, once you achieved a certain understanding – and as you know,

Victoria, you and I have talked about events, there have been great, great civilizations that have risen and fallen that have existed for millions of years. And if you doubt this all you need do is look at the ruins in Africa that are being unearthed and discovered. There were literally hundreds of thousands of mines that existed and humanity would toil on behalf of some of the original Children of Ainur that would come here. It was their job to kind of set up a form of business where they would harvest this gold, the gold would be taken back to different places and locations and generational ships that have existed for literally millions of years, which is another discussion.

I believe it is one of your questions. I had to get these questions approved, I did not want to say too much because there are certain treaties that exist that require us to walk carefully. There are rules that must be followed. We cannot allow your civilization to, for lack of a better term, evolve without a certain amount of guidance. But currently your entire world is corrupt and run by some of the most wicked beings that prefer to consume other humans as a form of food. We see this in the pedophile rings and these were all set up because this is a form of litmus test. And will you cooperate with such evil? Well, many of the top leaders that you have are actually Reptilians and are either overtaken by them or they are controlled by them. Either way it is not a good thing. But humanity must rise up and be done with these beings and cast them away because once you begin in this direction then you will gain the support of others like myself and many of the ruling class that exist in the universe. “

Victoria: Thank you so much because this just reiterates what I have been saying through our conversations and then writing about it. It is nice that others can hear you say the same things. So, on a more light-hearted note, tell us about some of the amazing beings that exist in the universe. Because I know that there are photographs that NASA has taken and tried to cover them up.

Aya: Can you imagine standing on the shore before the ocean and looking out and saying 'I do not believe that there is any life out there', that it just must be a vast, multitudinous place of empty planets and nothing exists out there?

About The Oceanics: Well, I am going to let you know that, just as your oceans are filled of a variety of life from small to large beings, from the greatest whales that sing and swim through the sea, using their own frequencies, to your dolphins, to the beautiful fish, to all the organisms that even crawl upon the deepest of locations in your oceans, the universe is quite the same. What you will see are gigantic beings, some of which are literally as huge as the earth. We are talking about beings that are so large they can trail for thousands of miles and many of these greater beings were created by The Grand Creator to help populate and continue the expanse of the universe.

Some of them are devourers of the darkness and they create light as they swim like gigantic, gigantic leviathans that pass into the night, the deep. Oh, how beautiful the universe is. There are galaxies upon galaxies filled with life of all kinds, Victoria, and it is beautiful to see. Many of which has been kept from this planet on purpose because of your form of, well, I guess egocentrism is the correct word. I don't know, I have some issues sometimes with using this framework. But that the world is all about you and that the universe revolves around you, this was the lie of religion that has filtrated, you know, the fact that, beforehand, before you could even see – Copernicus for example was trying to inform the churches at the time.

Well, I guess we know what happened there. We discovered that, perhaps, just perhaps, your world is not the center of the universe. In fact, you are nothing more than a romper room in order to make sure that, when you finally graduate to first grade, that you at least know how to behave in the presence of other beings that have existed far longer than humanity.

Although you have been lied to about your existence, that the last, say, five or ten thousand years is really the only true civilization that you have had. In reality it is perhaps one of the last of the greatest civilizations that you had. “

Victoria: Yes, we are just starting to discover how amazing Egypt really was. And the group of the scientists that came out with the Pyramid Code movie, the series, about seven years ago were telling the truth. And there were so many ready to jump on them to shut them up. But what they were saying was truthful, that the pyramids were never made to house pharaohs. They were energy centers of healing, of light, of power, communication. And, you know, it just verifies what other scientists were saying about the universe and our earth.

Aya: Ultimately, you must understand something. Egypt is perhaps the last of the Symbols of All. The language itself, as you know, is a diverse language and is yet never to be fully understood although now you are starting to make progress. You see, when the pyramids were alight, much the way perhaps you may light a beautiful candle, they could be seen for literally hundreds of miles and the energy projected outward was designed to help, not hinder.

Your pyramids were never used to house pharaohs as it was said or thought to be. These were great lies. Lies perpetrated by curators and other people who wanted Egypt to be the center and that their people were the center. Well, I am going to tell you something. Long ago they were all connected through a very vast network of energy that would allow people to share thoughts, allow them to project these thoughts outward. One could simply commune with the great energies and find the person or persons you need to talk with. Very much like the way your modern cell phones work today, if you call that modern. But the main issue here is that so much more was understood.

The Ancient Egyptians could see many things and they communed directly with the Children of Ainur, of The Anunnaki. Some of us actually remained as monarchs behind and we were painted as something other than we were. But they tried to make sure that we were kept in check as well as the darker religions rose. You know, those that wore the big wings, this is where it all came from, the dark wings. But we will talk more about that another day too, I suppose.

Ultimately, you must understand that, as a human, your birthright is much more than simply working a job nine to five. You were created to expand into the universe and when you truly begin to focus your energies on expanding your mind, that is when you will see that all things can be created with thought.

Victoria: Thank you so much. I want to thank Aya for this amazing interview and the fact that we are going to be doing more interviews like this so that we can educate humanity the right way is going to be an amazing listen. But, in order for this to happen, the first thing you need to do is put away what you currently know as the truth. Because through our history books we have been lied to, our religious books are a lie and in order for humanity to progress into the universe we must see things with different eyes.

Aya: One final note to all the people here, this information that we are discussing is very generic in nature. I wish to become more specific but this is sort of an overview that we are having. I want you to understand that, as humanity continues to expand into the universe, you are our children and you are entitled some of the gifts that we want to give you. Gifts that can end your struggles with trying to find energy.

We have been sending you diagrams. For over a hundred years they appear in crop circles, they appear in writings. In fact, they have been in many of the ancient carvings, trying to explain to you that zero-point energy is achievable by your race, currently, with the technology you have. I wanted to mention something about CERN that I did not get the opportunity to do. I want you to see something that is going on.

Your governments are attempting to harness antimatter without the appropriate understanding of it. And if nuclear was not bad enough, antimatter has the ability to destroy this entire planet if it is not handled correctly. Thus, part of the reason why so many of my kind and others like me are watching you. Sort of like watching children play with matches with a large can of gas right next to them. Oh, my goodness, you better get control of that very quickly.

And you see, we cannot directly intervene until all of those involved have had the opportunity to choose what we perceive to be the best way to help humanity without directly intervening with your right to evolve the way that your race chooses to. And as long as you have been here on this planet and playing with nuclear devices, we understand that that is still primitive in your sense. But antimatter – my goodness, if anything could destroy this planet. I think you can see the effects of many of the earthquakes that are taking place, that find their way from CERN and are causing many problems. Especially in Italy, I believe, is one of the places.

Well, those earthquakes are directly caused by CERN, some of them. Others are caused by the events that are about to unfold, the things that are coming to this planet. The larger heavenly bodies that are approaching, pretty soon no one will be able to deny this. About every four to seven thousand years there is a great event on this planet.

But in addition, every four to eight thousand years there is a chance of, how shall we say, issues that will be coming from deep, deep in orbit. You have a binary star system; you are part of a binary star system. I wish to discuss this perhaps in another time, Victoria, because we need to talk about that as well and the Planet X hysteria, I want to talk about that at some point.

Victoria: Yes, actually that would be great because there are a lot of people right now, on YouTube, on blogs, that are discussing this. And now President Trump hat tweeted just last week about Nibiru. So, it is something that we would want to talk about and it is something that are very interested in.

Aya: There is both good and bad news about this. I want you to understand that it is a cyclical thing and it does not always completely destroy the earth. But it has the potential to do tremendous damage and yes, the events are about to unfold in that direction. But yes, I am sure there will be those out there that believe this is some form of conspiracy and that is fine.

But if you take the time to actually look up into the skies and see the things that Victoria has tried to share with you. She has actually taken pictures of these events that are coming and many other people have too, so we will talk more about that another time.

Victoria: Thank you so much for doing this interview with us. And I know that there are a lot of people who are looking forward to being more enlightened on actual facts rather than false lies. So, I am going to end the interview at this point and we will speak with Aya again at another time. Thank you again everyone.

Part 2 continues...

Arneesh Interview Part 2- March 7, 2017

Victoria: Good morning, everybody, this is Victoria from When The Ancients Speak. This morning, we are going to be talking to Aya again and he is going to be educating people on some of the advanced technology that The Anunnaki use as well as telling you about some of the great, amazing creatures that – I don't know, what would you say? – that live and breathe in the universe?

Aya: Yes, Victoria. Hello to everyone there. What I wish to speak about today and what I wish to say is that there has been this image in humanity that the universe is essentially empty. It's huge amounts of vast space. It's cold, it's lifeless and nothing exists. And that, in order to find life, you need to find the perfect example of human life. In other words: Could a human being live on this planet? How narrow-minded is your race?

Life exists all throughout the multiverse. There are creatures that are gigantic. Some of them tens of hundreds of miles long, some thousands of miles long. Gigantic beings that swim through the universe like the great leviathans of your world and in your oceans.

Is not... Are not the creatures in your ocean – are they not complex? Are they not diverse? Are there still not beings that exist in your own oceans that you have yet to discover? These are questions that I pose to humanity and I tell you there are thousands of alien species and creatures and automatons and created, mechanoid beings that swim through the universe, many of which have multifaceted uses.

Victoria: Thank you. Now you were telling me a couple of days ago that some of these great creatures create good energy, they help to mix the energy up in the universe. “

Aya: Let me use an example in your world: Earthworms. When an earthworm passes through the dirt it consumes the rough materials and exceeds a vitriol, a messy kind of substance that actually is good for plants. And of course, most gardeners would tell you that having a lot of worms in your garden is a sign of the garden's health.

Well, many of the different places in the multiverse need to be tilled. Their information, their abilities, their focus needs to be on creating new spaces that can be used and, in essence, almost a form of – for lack of a better word – terraforming. These beings are gigantic and they swim throughout the universe and where they have gone, they have created roadways, so to speak, that can be followed. And their remnants are often harvestable and can be used in the many different types of technology that not only The Anunnaki use, but also that many other species and races use. This would be equivalent to, say, an underground mining device that would create huge boreholes in the earth that can then be used to populate, say, create a subway or many of the underground bunkers that exist throughout the world. There are plenty of them, let me tell you.

Victoria: Yes. I also remember that you were telling me that some of these beings are so vast and I know that a NASA telescope has taken a picture once of this snake-like creature. Is this one of the ones that you are speaking of?

Aya: There have been generational projects in the multiverse. Much the way that you have public works programs that can cross through state barriers. The Interstate is an example of a project that encompasses the majority of states in America, as an example. Well, the alien races work together for these kinds of projects as well.

In fact, the building of the pyramids was actually a form of this process where people come together because they know they were creating a power generator that could be used and energy could be tapped freely by those who are attuned to it.

Don't believe the nonsense that the pyramids were designed and people spent all these years to build a tomb for someone. Please. These were powerful energy generators. Much the way, perhaps, you would generate electricity at Niagara Falls, correct? You have large movements of water and... Well, the pyramids were a bit more advanced. They have, of course, at the top the crystalline energy generators that have been stolen and removed, but these devices are very commonplace. Crystal.

Crystals are used to store energy, information. We even store events that take place that can be relived. Much like that early movie Dreamscape that exists. I have seen that once or twice through the eyes of the— and the memories of this body and other bodies that we call. How you can actually store events and then relive them again – this is all crystalline-based technology you are just beginning to explore, using crystals for devices for energy storage. Yet for thousands of years they have been used in many advanced civilizations, including here on earth.

Victoria: You know, using crystals makes a lot of sense to me because I have always, since I have been a little girl, been attracted to crystals. So, it makes sense to me and a lot of religious orders tell you not to touch crystals because, you know, they can encourage demonic powers. Well, we all know why now. Because they did not want us to learn that crystals were actually amazing.

Aya: Isn't it interesting that everything you are told you should not do turns out to be probably be something you should do? Let me give you a bit of advice for life. And The Anunnaki embrace this type of thinking. If a majority of people are telling you to do something and there appears to be no logical reason why, then you must ask yourself if, not only should you ignore them but, perhaps, do the opposite. It seems to be a good rule of thumb for many of the governments of this planet. That it is wise to do the opposite of whatever they say because they have their own agenda and it does not involve protecting humanity.

Victoria: Exactly. We have got a lot of stuff going on earth right now. But I think a lot of people are kind of sitting in an anxious mode because they know, they sense it, they feel it, they know things are changing. Not only on the earth but in the universe and they are getting impatient with the changes.

Aya: Do you recall how you felt in high school, waiting for summer break, knowing that you were going to be free, finally, and you were sort of anxious and looking forward to it? Remember that last day of school or college when you finally were about to graduate and move on but you had this feeling inside of you? You knew that you felt something was not quite right, you were afraid about the future. This is because of the vibrational changes in the planet, obviously, as the Nemesis solar system continues closer. People will begin to experience this because you have genetic memories of these events and you are all aware that a great cataclysm is about to befall the planet.

The question is: Who will survive? And while all of these other petty things are going on in your world, I am here to tell you that every problem that humanity has, we have already solved these problems. Your goal should be now to survive the events that are about to happen over the next year.

Victoria: Yes. I think there are a lot of people who are definitely waking up to the fact that everything, pretty much, that we have been taught is a lie. Just this morning I am seeing people posting things on social media that religion is the biggest crock of you know what. That it is such a lie, that we have all been indoctrinated, all been dumbed down, all been held slaves by this force and that it is time that we put this aside and just rise up and overtake our governments who have been lying to us for so long now.

Aya: If you recall, when you were in school or in college, one of the classes you may have had to have taken would be a basic science class. You would have to learn scientific method, you would have to learn to look at your results and study what is taking place and look without a too critical eye but you also had to support your thesis. You had to provide evidence that what you said could not only, possibly, be happening but also could be reproduced by other scientists. I believe you mentioned this earlier today when you were talking on another framework. But I wanted to point out something that a lot of people do not consider and they probably should.

Ultimately, this is humanities test, it is your graduation test to be welcomed into The Galactic Empire (not Federation). Yes, there is a Galactic Empire. Yes, it does exist. There are thousands of races, different types of races. Some are part machine, some are completely inorganic, some are organic and many are humanoid but many are also not humanoid. Some you are incapable of seeing in your current light spectrums – and you only see a small sliver of the visual spectrum. Others require the ability to comprehend events that have taken place in the past or the future.

About Time Travel According To Aya

Aya: There are entire races that only exist in the past or the future. But as I explained to everyone before, you are just beginning to crack the surface of time travel and how you can effectively move forward or backward in time. This is not difficult at all. It requires a special license and knowledge and understanding. But, you see, there are some givens that a lot of people do not understand, a lot of humans.

Time travel can be done and is done by our kind quite frequently. But we do more to observe the events that are taking place. It is actually quite difficult to change the past, regardless of the fantasies or movies that you have seen where you can go back in time and, say, assassinate Hitler, for example. Maybe, one example. But in reality, the events will organize themselves and, once they have occurred, remain as the equivalent of, say, if you were to take acid and pour it on the ground it would always leave that burn mark there – It would take a lot of work to clean it up. It is very similar in the sense that past and future coalesce around the present. That you actually can step from the present to the past and from the present to the future.

What is difficult is stepping from the past to the future because you must define the exact line of travel. But, you see, you can experience these events and many of our top people have traveled in time. Not only because we want to see the events unfold for real but because we can actually observe the progress of humanity leak back into the present, of what most people would perceive the present, and make slight tweaks to ensure that humanity has the best possible chance of survival. That is kind of like a professor grading on a curve. You know, not everybody passes the class so a lot of times in these college class rooms the professor will take the mean, the median and the mode. Remember all those things, people, from math? For those of you that are not currently in common core. From what I understand, this is very basic. That you take averages. And the averages determine what is going to happen. Well, we do the same thing with time travel.

There are devices and portals that exist on this planet that can allow you to step into these different frequencies and experience events. Some will be a metaphysical transference where your life essence can actually pass through these portals, temporarily, and you can experience different things. And there are also existing portals where your physical self, your entire body and your spirit, if you wish to call it that, can pass into different times but then you will be thrown back, eventually, because there is this causal loop. But it is interesting to note this, Victoria. That in some events in temporal mechanics the actual event precedes the cause. So, it requires a bit of reverse thinking I would say.

Victoria: Now, you see, that is really interesting to me because here on earth we know that they have just started getting, you know, into these experiments with time travel and I have noticed that.

Aya: CERN.

Victoria: Yes, CERN. That there is kind of like a Butterfly Effect from movies that, for instance, are twenty years old. One of the words has now changed in—

Aya: The Mandela Effect.

Victoria: The Mandela Effect! Thank you.

Aya: Is the name of the term. And sorry to interrupt. I wanted to add a little bit to the Mandela Effect. This is because of your people screwing around with different effects and different causes. You see, CERN. Its entire reason for existence was to open dimensional rifts and gateways because the people perceived that they could gain power from dimensional beings. But what you are really doing is equivalent to leaving your doors open in a busy metropolitan city filled with crime.

The majority of beings out there know that they can manipulate time and phase in and out of different realities. They can make slight derivations and changes that will affect events that take place on this planet. And as I reminded you, this planet is a huge repository of genetic DNA information and it is used as a baseline for a lot of programs that the aliens are doing. Everything on your planet is a gift from another species. For example, certain types of fish in your water were a gift from The Aquatic Beings.

Different types of trees were gifts from other beings. Your world is designed to teach you, train you, so that you would understand what other worlds would be like because, quite frankly, you are going to be the seed, the progenitors of the future and you are the basis upon which all of the other races are created from.

Victoria: Now see, that makes sense to me. Those animals, seeds, plants, everything was.

Aya: And thoughts! The other thing that people do not understand is: Almost every thought that you have has been actually programmed into what I like to refer to as the collective consciousness. All of your thoughts are taken from that information. For example, everyone likes to have wonderful fantasies about science fiction. You know, what could— you know, unicorns! Science fantasy. All of these beings exist in one form or another across the multiverse.

Victoria: And that is amazing because I remember you saying that to me. That any thought that humanity had, thinks that is brand new, has already been recreated somewhere else. So, we are just remembering, through the process of enlightenment, who we are and we are being helped by other beings across the universe, if that is what I am gaging here.

Aya: Yes, Heda (is a name Aya gave to Victoria). But you are only being helped just enough to complete the basics. For example: Humanity does tend to have problems when it comes to dealing with its own racial involvement. Well, this is about to come to a huge head in this country. There is going to be lots of people that are going to be incarcerated.

There are going to be lots of your former leaders that are absolutely horrific, horrific beings and they should be removed from this planet. I am telling you right now that the civil war that everyone is pushing, they want to see this across the planet. Many of the Reptilian types that do not wish to see humanity evolve past being slave chattel – no pun intended to my good friend Chattel, but there is a reason why he has that name.

Victoria: Yes. I am very aware that, right now, what is happening, is that – Yes, I know you have said there would be arrests coming very soon and possibly because of the retaliation factor – that some of these humanoid types, Reptilian types are considering releasing a bioweapon as a way to pay us back for catching them out.

Aya: Oh, my goodness, Victoria. We are not talking about a bioweapon; we are talking about the bioweapon. They are estimating casualties as high as 500 million people that may contract some advanced form of avian flu that will be tweaked, of course. It will be weaponized. They mentioned mousepox as well, it is lethal to 90 percent of the people that get it. Of course you cannot kill all of them, so they wish to leave a small percentage of humans that will actually be slaves and service their masters.

They do love humanity, primarily on a plate as they consume you and they certainly love your energy. They feed off of your energy. That is why your cities are designed like gigantic circuit boards so that they can hover their spaceships at any time over any major city and absorb energy. Which is why it is fascinating to be – Anyone who studies UFOs, you may wish to know this. There are vast numbers of new alien encounters that are taking place because there is a rush on, right now, to absorb as much energy as possible before your pole shift happens and some of the top earthquakes that are scheduled to happen – and I mean scheduled to happen. You are going to have horrific earthquakes and volcanoes; there will be a super volcano that will also go active at some point. And you are going to just see more and more of this until, of course, the pole shift and Planet X and the Nemesis star system heads back out into deep space.

Victoria: Well, thank you for that information. I know many of the beings that are coming forward are saying pretty much the same thing. So, considering all of the beings that we have put podcasts together with in the last few weeks, they have all said the same things. And honestly, people, I do not ask them about this information, this is being freely given. Whether you choose to believe it or not is entirely up to you. However, I tend to want to air on the side of caution and listen when I am being given a warning.

Aya: Consider this: What is the worst thing that will happen to you if you listen to what we are telling you? You may decide to move to a higher elevation. You may decide to start growing your own foods and 'living off the grid', as they say, which is standard for many people in the universe and the multiverse today; That you generate your own power and you take it with you and then you create things out of literally thin air. We have such technology now and as soon as your government releases some of this, which by the way was stolen technology from The Greys. But that is okay, we gave some of this to your government anyhow. You wish to have some of the better technology that will be released, which will, of course— we have talked before about life extension.

Victoria: Yes

Arneesh: But there are all kinds of differing degrees of that. For example, the cure to diabetes, for example, exists. The cure to cancer, everyone knows that, has existed. You should ask yourself: What are the causes of these diseases? And you can trace most of them back to an insidious program designed to poison most of the population.

Victoria: Yes, I have been speaking about that for years. And there are a few people who will back up most of what I have said with their own research. A lot of the scientists that no longer follow the, what shall we say, false science has come out and spoken out about a lot of the food because they know what is actually in it.

For instance, it has now come out: Glyphosate. Now, for years it was being spoken about as a pipe cleaner. It used to be, in the 60s, before it was patented into a herbicide, was it used to— Glyphosate used to clean the inside of waterpipes, underground city pipes, when they get a lot of calcium deposits on them. That chemical was used to clean the pipes off. Now, that chemical is now going into your body and it is corrupting a lot of the proteins in your body and it is turning things toxic.

Aya: It is also gradually altering your DNA so that you would be more useful as a subservient slave. And of course it is turning most of you into lunatics. It is affecting your intelligence, it is affecting your ability to think and reason and it is also slowly killing you; it is reducing your lifespan. This is what your — 'globalists' I think is the correct term that we have mentioned before — that are also being driven by the Reptilians want. They want a majority of you dead and they are going to achieve it one way or the other.

So, your job, as an intelligent human being, is to hear these things and to decide that perhaps, maybe, you need to move away from the cities, as we have mentioned, because those are the centers of control where you are manipulated the most. Out into wilderness where you can lead a self-sustaining life. Because if you do not do this when events begin to befall humanity you may be among the many who will pass away and have to come back and do it again.

Victoria: Well, that is why we are here. We are here in, you know, over eight thousand feet high in the sky. We have been here for about five or six years and we started a few years ago doing, you know, self-sustaining things. Growing our own food. We are very fortunate because we have a lot of sun and wind in the southern Colorado area. And we also looked at the location of where we were. There wasn't a huge population where we are. So, we know that we are enshrouded by mountains and these are the things that people need to start considering. And you got to do it really soon because you have to find a place that can help protect you from any kind of chemical poisoning. You need to be away from the cities where you are going to be inundated with infections, bacteria, viruses, those sorts of things.

Aya: And one of the biggest pollutions that most people do not consider is electronic pollution. You know, Wi-Fi and all these other primitive tools that you have for communications. And people seem to not understand that many of these devices are very unhealthy for you. I noticed that, when I traveled with Victoria, that almost all people are completely mesmerized by their cell phones. And they devote endless hours to using their cell phones. And I believe others have warned about cell phone microwave radiation. That you need to not keep this on your person and that, if you have one, you should get something that you can store it in.

Your husband mentioned something called Block It Pocket what is like a small case, almost like a case that you will put, perhaps, your glasses into, only it is wider and it screens out all of the electronic interference and it only works when you open it. So, you could keep this in your purse or in your pocket without getting the side radiation. There are people that are getting tumors and developing cancer and on not only their hips, where they store their cell phone, but when every time they place it up to their head and microwave their head while they are talking. I could think of better ways to communicate.

Victoria: Yeah. We actually knew somebody who got a tumor around the back of his ear and down into his throat because his Blackberry, at that time, was connected to his head pretty much all day long and he got very sick. And then, when we told him that it could be coming from his cell phone, he actually did not believe us.

Aya: And so, he did the research. And then he believed us. I do not think he has a cell phone, I do not believe he is alive.

Victoria: Yes, he got really sick. And I do want to mention this whole thing about cell phones dumbing down your intelligence. For instance, just the other day, a woman pulls out her mobile and, in the middle of the street, she stops going around a corner so she can answer somebody on her text messaging. This is the intelligence level that has been dropped to basically room temperature IQ, maybe even lower. You do not stop in the middle of the street so you can text somebody. But this actually occurred and it nearly caused a series of accidents, just the other day.

Aya: And this is not the only example. I am sure many of you are aware that all of the technologies that you have purchased in the last several years is spying on everything you do and say and sending all this information to government agencies that search through these things with special keywords and compile this data. So later in your life, if they choose, they can use this information against you. This is, of course, illegal. By most of the rules of this world it is considered illegal but it is being done all the time. And I am here to tell you that if you wish to live a long and productive life you need to get away from technology as much as possible.

I know it is difficult to completely eliminate technology – heck, here I am talking on this device here in order to record what I am saying. But I am trying to warn people. Whether or not they choose to listen, as you said, Victoria, is their choice. But look into the things that we are telling you. If it turns out that what we are saying is true, then perhaps you should listen. Your very life may depend on it, that and the life of your family.

Victoria: Well, we know that this goes on all the time because, heck, we had this huge, big thing going on in America. That our president has been interfered with and his conversations have been listened. We know this happens.

I also want to mention that, you know, anytime you use one of those light bulbs that– the curly shaped light bulbs? We dropped one once and there was like a little computer chip in there. And you have got to ask yourself why the FCC stamp is on one of those light bulbs. Because we are being listened to.

Aya: None of this is technology that is even remotely close to the kind of things that the Anunnaki possess. But you must free yourself from these devices if you wish to live a long and productive life. Obviously, you will need to keep them somewhere. Well, get a lead lined box and store these things inside of these boxes so they will not affect you. But has humans, until you evolve better technology including personal shields and other types of protections that you can use to prevent these devices from making you ill, then you must keep yourself away from them. And it is the best advice I can give any human being. They do not do well under massive amounts of this type of radiation.

Victoria: Well, that makes sense because of our cell structure. We were not supposed to be taking massive amounts of radiation. That is something that was introduced onto us. And we see the results of massive radiation and you have to be completely asleep not to know what is going on with Fukushima. And now, yes, after many years of the radiation in the ocean, just now, America is recording it on their shorelines. However, it has been here for quite some time, too.

So, I think what we need to say at this point is that humans need to up their game. You need to be protecting yourself from radiation poisoning, you need to be aware that your cell phones are listening devices. Possibly some of your technology in your home like your televisions, modern televisions, possibly your light bulbs, dryers, refrigerators, anything that is in new appliance may actually have listening devices attached to it that could incriminate everybody for not doing anything. Kind of like Minority Report.

Aya: Well, all I can say is this: Technology should be a friend of humanity, not a foe. And we learned long ago that such devices require certain restrictions that have been placed on those who create them. And now some of the best devices to make better for your way would be including yourself as a device.

You need to train your mind to think logically. You need to take the opportunity to speak to other people about coming together. Technology should bring people together, not drive them apart like it is doing now with all of your social media that is essentially keeping people in electronic prisons.

Victoria: Exactly. There is a great awakening where people realize that, in order to survive, they have to have smaller communities of like-minded individuals who also have alternative skills. And I think at this point this is where we are going to sign off for today.

I want to thank Aya for educating us again and he does have plans on coming back again. His podcast was very popular. We had probably more downloads with Aya's education than we have had previously. So, we want to keep encouraging The Anunnaki King to keep coming back and talking to us.

And with that I will sign off and wish you all a very happy day.

Wesdoo!
